Center for Leadership and Ethics

Virginia Military Institute

The mission of the VMI Center for Leadership and Ethics is to advance the understanding, practice, and integration of leadership and character development at the Institute and to share insights gleaned from the VMI programs with a broader national audience. The development of leaders of character at VMI involves a four-year cadet journey through experiences in intellectual, military, physical, and character development.

George C. Marshall Foundation

Lexington, Virginia

The Marshall Foundation is dedicated to celebrating the legacy of George C. Marshall and inspiring new leaders. The independent Foundation with its museum, library, and archives keeps alive the values that shaped and motivated Marshall. All attendees are invited to visit the museum free of charge during the conference.

Register for the Marshall Symposium

Full registration—$150
Day-rate—$80
Reception & Banquet only—$60
Luncheon only—$16
Student registration is complimentary, meals extra

Register one of three ways:

- On-line— www.vmi.edu/marshallsymposium
- By Mail - VMI, Marshall Symposium, 225 Marshall Hall, Lexington, VA 24450. Make Check payable to "VMI Treasurer".
- By phone - call Leigh McFaddin: 540-463-7103 x 138

Full registration includes entry to sessions, reception/banquet, and luncheon. Day-rate registration includes entry to sessions and meal on Friday or Saturday.

George C. Marshall

Servant of the American Nation

Friday & Saturday
23 & 24 October 2009

Center for Leadership and Ethics
Virginia Military Institute
Lexington, Virginia

www.vmi.edu/marshallsymposium

Hosted by the George C. Marshall Foundation and the Virginia Military Institute

George C. Marshall

Servant of the American Nation

Friday & Saturday, October 23 & 24, 2009

This symposium investigates major roles assumed by George C. Marshall during his career spanning five decades.

On the fiftieth anniversary of his death, we honor this servant leader who contributed substantively to virtually every important event and issue comprising America's rise to power in the first half of the 20th Century.

We invite you to participate in this look into the exceptional life of a distinguished American soldier-statesman.

Agenda

Friday, October 23

1300 Registration

1400 Welcome

Brian D. Shaw, President, George C. Marshall Foundation
General J.H. Binford Peay, US Army (Retired), Superintendent, VMI

1415 Marshall as Soldier

Marshall and the Emergence of a New Generation of Leaders
Edward M. Coffman, University of Wisconsin (emeritus)

Marshall and Grand Strategy
Paul Miles, Princeton University

Marshall as Organizer of Victory
Chair and Comment: Williamson Murray, The Ohio State University (emeritus) and The Institute for Defense Analyses

1630 VMI Corps of Cadets Parade

1715 Reception

1815 Banquet

The Mind of Marshall
Josiah Bunting III, President, H.F. Guggenheim Foundation; VMI Superintendent (emeritus)

Saturday, October 24

0745 Continental Breakfast

0830 Marshall as Statesman and Peacemaker

The Marshall Plan and American Modesty
Nicolaus Mills, Sarah Lawrence College

Marshall and Korea
James I. Matray, California State University at Chico

Marshall's Mission to China, 1945-1947
Chair and Comment: Barry Machado, Washington and Lee University (emeritus)

1000 Break

1030 Marshall as Leader and Manager

A Leader for the Ages
Gerald Pops, West Virginia University

Achieving Victory Through Strategic Management and Leadership
Stewart Husted, Virginia Military Institute

Demon of Integrity
Chair and Comment: Charles Brower, VMI Center for Leadership and Ethics

1215 Luncheon

The Marshall Papers Project
Daniel D. Holt, Co-editor, Marshall Papers, George C. Marshall Foundation

The Marshall Legacy
Mark A. Stoler, Co-editor, Marshall Papers, George C. Marshall Foundation and the University of Vermont (emeritus)

1330 Adjournment

www.vmi.edu/marshallsymposium